CLASS PROPHECY

After the huge jet plane had landed gently on the Royal Airport in Sylva, July 13, 1960, I stepped out and headed for the immense ticket building. Imagine my surprise when I saw the sign, "This Airport Owned and Operated by Dan Buchanan." As I wandered around the town I learned that:

Bobby Foxx was owner of a tremendous supermarket in Lovefield.
Jimmy Allman had finally become manager of a Super Service Station.
In the center of town was a large beauty salon, owned by Louise Deitz.
On the sports page of a newspaper I read, "Duke Wins Again and Will Always Be On Top," declares Coach Eugene Trantham.
Later in the day I discovered that Fred Mills had become owner of Ford Motor Company.
Orville Haskett was now Ambassador to Spain so he can state his opinion, (providing our Democratic President lets him).
Dixie Bryson was owner of a large dress shop featuring exclusive Paris dresses. Wanda Sue Reed, a famous dress model, was showing Dixie's dresses.
I noticed outside of town a Woman's College, named for Junetta Pell, its president.
Alva Jean Sutton, an interior decorator, had just finished a redo of the White House.
Well, believe it or not, Ralph Davis had become pastor of Love Dale Baptist Church with Billy Carpenter and William Buchanan serving as Deacons.
Mozelle Ashe was a nurse at a hospital in Rome, Georgia.
William Ammons was boss of a logging camp in Oregon.
Marshall Frizzelle and his wife, stars of "The Grand Ole Opry," were living in Nashville, Tennessee.
Betty Jean Guffey, after co-starring in a movie with Rock Hudson, was resting in Hollywood.
David Buchanan had finally become editor of the NEW YORK TIMES.
Jimmie Sue Cabe was coach of Webster's basketball squad, the top team of the conference.
After four unsuccessful marriages, Iva Nell Woodard had finally become the wife of a famous millionaire.
Judy Painter was working as secretary for her husband, the president of the First National Bank in Asheville.
After being a stenographer for six months, Betty Wilson had decided it was time to say "Yes." The wedding vows were spoken yesterday.
Wayne Welch had become a famous electrical engineer in Pennsylvania.
Joan Beck's latest best seller was based on her school day experiences.
Charles Greene was a famous conductor of a New York orchestra.
Carolyn Davis had finally settled for a major in the U.S. Air Force.
Jimmy Greene was master of ceremonies on the television show "Why Did This Happen to Me?"
Jack Deitz had really climbed. Night patrolman on the Savannah highway.
Myrtle Brendle had become owner of the Jackson County Bank Building, the tallest skyscraper in Sylva.
L. C. Cabe, the owner of the Sylva Insurance and Loan Agency, had announced he controls one half the capital of Sylva.
Betty Ruth Williams and her husband, a movie producer, had just finished establishing an exclusive theater at Savannah.
I regretted having to make my visit short, but in view of all these successes, I plan to return and make Sylva my future home.
